校長的話

Welcome to CCC Kei Yuen College!

CCC Kei Yuen College is a Christian co-educational grammar school, with English as the medium of instruction, founded in 1982 by the Hong Kong Council of the Church of Christ in China (HKCCCC).

Our school motto, "We will in all things grow up into him who is the Head, that is, Christ" (Ephesians 4:15), and the name of our school - 'Kei' means Christ and 'Yuen' means Head, thus 'Christ is the Head' -shape our direction, which is to follow Christ's model: striving for 'Excellence with a Soul' and pursuing 'Outstanding with a Heart' in all things.

We have established a happy learning environment where our students, nurtured with "Love and Care", can grow in love and where whole-person development is fostered. Not only do we value academic performance and intellectual development, but we also place strong emphasis on values, attitudes, and our perpetual tradition of physical and aesthetic excellence.

Kei Yuen students are nurtured to be self-regulated learners in a context that promotes extraordinary learning experiences not confined to the classroom. Ubiquitous learning, via online classroom, has been technologically enhanced to promote learning anytime and anywhere. Kei Yuen students also widen their global horizon by joining various service training and leadership development programs, as well as study tours to English-speaking countries.

High-quality education that caters to the diverse needs of our students creates abundant opportunities in our changing world. We acknowledge and pay special attention to students' individuality, developing their unique potential so that they can treasure themselves, cherish others and love God.

Our graduates are proud of being part of the Kei Yuen family. They understand their duty and have contributed to communities in Hong Kong, mainland China and the world for forty years.

I look forward to welcoming you to the Kei Yuen family.

English Learning, Lifelong Benefits

英語學習 終身受用

English is an important international language, and one that students must master. Becoming proficient in English can enhance students' academic learning and prepare them for future career development. English has been the language of instruction for all Form One classes since the 2010/2011 academic year. This year, a total of 15 subjects are being taught in English in junior forms, including English Language, Mathematics, Geography, Integrated Science, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Computer Literacy, History, Visual Arts, Physical Education, Home Economics, Music, Design and Technolog and STREAM. In addition, our school has adopted a variety of teaching and learning strategies to enrich the English learning environment.

To enhance students' speaking skills, all junior speaking classes are taught by a Native English Teacher (NET). Over the years, the school has organised many activities, including English morning assemblies, English Action Days and English variety shows. Furthermore, students are encouraged to participate in different English extra-curricular activities, such as the English Speech Team, the English Debating Team, the English Drama and Movie-making Society, the Smart Writers Society, and the Scrabble Society.

As our school aims to provide students with multiple learning experiences using English, different learning activities are organized every year, including study tours to Australia, English Drama Competitions and Common Room Open Space.

Hello, fellow Keiyuenese. I am thrilled and honored to share my learning experience. During the academic year 2023-2024, I achieved first place in my form and demonstrated outstanding academic performance.

In our Life Education classes, where we explore "The 8 Habits of Highly Effective People," I have learned the importance of being proactive. This principle has profoundly influenced how I manage my free time. Instead of primarily engaging in leisure activities, I choose to enrich my knowledge proactively by studying European history and science through various resources like books, videos, and Wikipedia. This proactive approach not only deepens my understanding but also directly contributes to my academic achievements. While it's perfectly acceptable for some students to spend their free time playing—and indeed, relaxation is necessary—I find that using my time more productively yields better academic results.

Encountering difficulties is a common aspect of learning. In my view, the moment you start figuring out how to overcome these challenges is an opportunity to improve. I have consistently struggled with Chinese writing, but I have never given up, inspired by the concept of a growth mindset. We've learned that there are no failures, only "Not Yet!" I have continuously worked hard to enhance my skills in this area.

I am guided by a quote from the renowned physicist Albert Einstein: "Life is like riding a bicycle. To keep your balance, you must keep moving." I strive to live by these words and "ride my bike" to the best of my abilities. However, I believe my success is not solely my own—it belongs to everyone who has supported me. I would like to express my gratitude to our principal, teachers, my parents, classmates, and everyone who has helped me along the way. Thank you all for your support, and I hope to achieve even better results next year!

Throughout the academic year, I have faced countless challenges in my studies. However, by applying the principles from "The 8 Habits of Highly Effective People," which we studied in our Life Education class, managing these obstacles became much easier.

One key habit that significantly aided me is "Be Proactive." Instead of being passive and hoping problems would resolve themselves, I took an active role in addressing the issues I faced.

Another critical habit is "Begin with the End in Mind." This approach helps me start tasks with a clear goal, preventing procrastination and keeping me focused and motivated over the long term.

"Put First Things First" has been the most crucial habit for me. It enables me to prioritize important tasks and manage my schedule efficiently, maximizing productivity and reducing stress.

Additionally, maintaining a positive growth mindset when facing setbacks is vital. For instance, if I fail to achieve my learning goals, I remind myself it is only "Not Yet," not "Never."

Lastly, I've learned that failures are not the end but stepping stones to success. By embracing failures as learning opportunities, I have been able to grow and improve consistently throughout the semester.

As I continue my academic journey, I look forward to further developing these habits and seeing how they will shape my future success.

I am honored to share the insights I have gained along my educational journey. I believe that effective note-taking is crucial for enhanced learning; simply memorizing information by rote is not enough. I would like to discuss some of my preferred learning strategies with you, including summarizing, creating diagrams and mind maps, reviewing corrections, and using highlights. These methods have significantly helped me grasp complex concepts and retain information.

As part of my daily routine, I make it a point to plan the next day's schedule every evening. This practice helps me stay organized and improves my productivity by giving me a clear understanding of my daily tasks.

Throughout my academic journey, I've faced numerous challenges such as grappling with complex subjects, balancing family and academic pressures, and experiencing dips in my test scores. These hurdles have been draining and, at times, have left me feeling defeated. Initially, I withdrew and missed several opportunities for self-improvement.

However, with a growth mindset and the support of my friends and family, I have come to view these challenges as opportunities for growth. I strive to overcome them, embracing the philosophy to "always find a reason to smile." Life is undoubtedly full of ups and downs, and while no one is perfect and failures can be disheartening, I hold onto the hope that there will always be joyful memories to cherish.

Most importantly, I am immensely grateful to my classmates, friends, and family for their unwavering support and acceptance of my imperfections. Their encouragement fuels my motivation to persevere and continue moving forward. With their support, I am confident in facing future challenges and excited about the opportunities to grow and learn.

I am grateful for the opportunity to share my learning strategies and mindset that have significantly aided me throughout my academic journey. I hope you will find them just as beneficial.

To achieve our learning goals, it is crucial to prioritize tasks. When faced with a multitude of assignments and tests, make it a habit to create a to-do list and tackle the most critical or urgent tasks first—essentially, putting first things first. This method helps break down large volumes of material into manageable segments, fostering a passion for learning rather than inducing fear.

Maintaining a positive mindset is also essential for success. It is inevitable that we encounter setbacks, such as disappointment from unsatisfactory results. However, adopting a resilient attitude and embracing the "not yet" mindset can significantly alleviate stress. As a fellow traveler on this path, I continuously strive to stay motivated and ready for the challenges that lie ahead.

In conclusion, learning is neither a painless nor a solitary journey. By seeking assistance from teachers and classmates, we can achieve more together. As Nelson Mandela once said, "It always seems impossible until it's done." I believe our efforts will pay off, helping us overcome seemingly impossible challenges.

Learning is never easy; the path to success is often laden with obstacles. Each challenge we encounter in the learning process, though inevitable, offers invaluable lessons. Throughout my learning journey, I have faced various hurdles and have occasionally felt overwhelmed. During such times, I find it helpful to take a break and relax. This shift in focus not only refreshes me but also provides fresh insights and practical solutions to the issues at hand.

When faced with challenges, I prefer to view them not as roadblocks but as affirmations of my abilities. Adopting this mindset opens up opportunities to learn and evolve from any mistakes.

As for study tips, it is crucial to stay attentive in class and review the material afterward. When faced with complex tasks, creating a to-do list can effectively organize my workload. Additionally, drawing mind maps—a visual method of representing information—can greatly enhance our understanding of intricate concepts and aid in memory retention.

Believe in yourself. With effort and dedication, nothing is impossible.

It is common to see Form One students feeling anxious as they face their new environment. In view of that, our school holds plenty of activities to help them adapt to secondary school life. Below are the key measures we take to create a caring and supportive campus:

踏入中學校園，中一新生面對陌生的學習環境難免感到徬徨不安。為了讓學生更易融入校園新生活，本校特別安排以下的配套措施，支援中一新生。

內容 Content

English Learning: To create a rich English-language environment, our school has placed considerable emphasis on learning English inside and outside our classrooms, such as having students compile a useful vocabulary handbook, "Word Power", for their self-study. Over the years, a wide range of activities has been held to cater for learner diversity, such as the Summer Bridging Programme, workshops on learning strategies and learning skills, oral English and Language Arts courses organized by the NETs, Enhancement and Remedial Courses and the Saturday English, Mathematics and Science Enhancement Programme.

照顧學生的英語學習：編印各科英文生字自學手冊，供學生參考。開辦暑假銜接課程、中一學習策略/學習技巧工作坊、中一英文口語班 (外籍英語教師教授)、中一資優 / 拔尖 / 補底課程等，並推行周六英文、數學提升計劃，協助學生面對不同的學習需要。

At CCC Kei Yuen College, our Visual Arts curriculum is designed to support students in cultivating their creativity, critical thinking, and communication skills, while fostering their sense of aesthetic perception and cultural awareness. We also aim to help them develop their artistic abilities, construct knowledge, and cultivate positive values and attitudes. By participating in a range of artistic activities, outings, and exhibitions meticulously curated by the Visual Arts panel, students are provided with opportunities to enhance their skills, broaden their knowledge, and cultivate positive attitudes and values. Through these experiences, they not only experience the joy, pleasure, and fulfillment that come from creative expression, but also develop a lifelong appreciation for the arts.

本校視覺藝術科每年組織各式各樣的活動、考察和展覽，讓學生獲得更多發展個人技能、知識、態度和價值的機會。

Sharing by a 2024 HKDSE Outstanding Student

We encounter numerous challenges in our lives, and for a secondary school student like myself, the most formidable one must be the DSE examination. Nevertheless, I am grateful for having navigated this journey at Kei Yuen with its compassionate yet proficient teachers, along with amiable schoolmates. Throughout these six years, they have stood by me, enabling me to craft cherished memories that have fortified my resolve and shaped my character. It is their presence that embodies the warmth of Kei Yuen, and thus, I extend my heartfelt gratitude to them.

A persistent quandary during my final years was how to strike a balance between extracurricular activities (ECA) and academic obligations. As a member of the basketball team, it was incumbent upon me to participate in every practice. While practices inevitably encroached on my post-school revision time, the thought of giving up never crossed my mind. Moreover, I cherished every moment available for study, be it during breaks or in the early morning before classes. This is because I firmly believe that secondary school encompasses more than just academics and exams; the camaraderie and soft skills nurtured in ECAs are equally as vital as exam results. I am convinced that ECAs foster all-round development, which is invaluable for our future trajectories.

Maintaining motivation was pivotal in overcoming the academic challenges I faced. I was in Form 3 when I aspired to become a physiotherapist. Since then, this goal has been the driving force propelling me onward. Despite the admission scores appearing daunting initially, I persevered to the best of my abilities, gradually inching closer to my ambition. Hence, we should never underestimate our capabilities. As the adage goes, "Your attitude determines your altitude."

Lastly, the definition of a 'good student' varies widely. Personally, I believe that academic excellence alone does not define a good student. Therefore, I encourage all of you to explore different facets of yourselves and relish a fulfilling school experience.
